Of special interest among the exhibitors is Miss Elinor Trostel, whose engagement to John K. Notz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix J. Notz, Chicago, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Trostel, Lake drive. Miss Trostel will ride in both the Oconomowoc and the Milwaukee Hunt club show on July 11 and 12.

Miss Trostel is one of the most attractive members of the younger set and has recently been elected a provisional member of the Junior league. She was graduated from the University school, after which she attended Miss Spence's school in New York and later was graduated from Barnard college.

An excellent horsewoman, Miss Trostel won six prizes at Southshore horse show recently and three ribbons at the Lake Forest horse show. Mr. Notz was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Trostel. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Felix J. Notz visited Mr. and Mrs. Trostel.

Mrs. Trostel returned last week from the east where she attended the commencement exercises at Dartmouth college. Her son, Albert O. Trostel, jr., was a member of the graduating class. She also attended the exercises at Miss Spence's school, where Miss Beatrice Trostel was a graduate. Miss Beatrice accompanied her mother to Milwaukee.

Milwaukee Junior leaguers have a new reason for being proud of their place among the national association of leagues. One of the local members, Mrs. Edmund B. Shea, who writes under the name of Dorothy Thigpen Shea, has won honorable mention in the national poetry contest conducted each year among league members. Charles Hanson Towne, a poet himself and editor of Harper's Bazaar, with Theodosia Garrison judged the poems, with the results published in the July issue of the Junior League Monthly.

Mrs. Shea's poem is called "Evidence." It follows here:

They say her ways are dark.
And that her lovers are as many as the
moon's strange shifts,
Which change the season's pulse
From falling leaf to winter's chaste young snow.
